I - Department of War (DoW) Security Cooperation Summary

Security Cooperation Overview

The 2026 National Defense Strategy (NDS) outlines President Trump's America First, peace through strength, commonsense defense policy agenda. The NDS also makes clear that the United States expects its allies and partners to take primary responsibility for their own defense and shoulder their fair share of the burden of our collective defense. DoW security cooperation programs and related activities enhance the capabilities and capacity of allies and partners needed for their own defense, address regional security challenges, and strengthen relationships that promote mutual interests. Bolstered by the Department's security cooperation efforts, more capable allies and partners contribute to addressing shared national security challenges effectively alongside or in lieu of the United States.

The FY 2027 request reflects alignment with the President's America First policy and focuses on advancing DoW objectives to defend the homeland while simultaneously deterring China in the Indo-Pacific through strength, not confrontation, and increasing burden sharing with allies and partners. As described in the following chapters, changes include the reduction or elimination of some programs and realignment of funding within DoW's security cooperation programs. The following chapters largely continue the strategic realignment of security cooperation resourcing requested in FY 2026.

Title 10, Chapter 16, Section 301 of the U.S. code defines security cooperation as "any program, activity (including an exercise), or interaction of the Department of Defense with the security establishment of a foreign country to achieve a purpose as follows:

- To build and develop allied and friendly security capabilities for self-defense and multinational operations.

- To provide the armed forces with access to the foreign country during peacetime or a contingency operation.

Department of War (DoW)
Security Cooperation (Base Budget)
FY 2027 President's Budget

- To build relationships that promote specific United States security interests.”

The Department has implemented significant reforms to align resource allocation to strategic guidance and established an assessment, monitoring, and evaluation (AM&E) program. This budget display is a representation of the Department's progress to date in achieving security cooperation reform and realizing congressional intent in Title 10, Chapter 16, security cooperation.

Section 381(a) of Title 10, U.S. Code, requires a consolidated budget of security cooperation programs and activities be included annually along with the President's Budget request to Congress. The consolidated budget display is intended to enhance planning and oversight of security cooperation programs and related activities across the DoW.

The FY 2027 budget display includes the $4.3 billion requested by the Department for FY 2027 to conduct security cooperation programs and activities. The request supports programs and activities that will be executed under the authorities in Chapter 16 of Title 10, U.S. Code. It also includes funding requests for non-Chapter 16 programs and activities that include some elements or activities that are consistent with the security cooperation definition. This display excludes classified programs, such as programs authorized under Section 127(e) of Title 10, U.S. Code, "support of special operations to combat terrorism." The budget display also excludes Drug Interdiction and Counter-Drug activities authorized under Section 284(c) of Title 10, U.S. Code, "Support for counterdrug activities and activities to counter transnational organized crime." Section 284(c) activities are reported in the Drug Interdiction and Counter-Drug Activities justification material:

https://comptroller.war.gov/Portals/45/Documents/defbudget/FY2027/FY2027_Drug_Interdiction_and_Counter-Drug_Activities.pdf

In identifying the specific funds allocated to security cooperation, the Department focused on costs that could be directly tied to security cooperation or similar activities. Many DoW activities, especially in the Military Departments, could be viewed as security cooperation. However, for the purposes of this display, the Department focused on the situations where a security cooperation program is expected to incur an additional cost beyond what the Department would already be doing. For example, if U.S. forces are planning to conduct a training event and two observers from a partner nation are expected to attend, the Department would not reflect the costs of that exercise in this budget display. However, if DoW paid for the travel, lodging and subsistence of those observers to support attendance, then those costs would be captured in this display.

Department of War (DoW)

Categories of Security Cooperation Programs and Activities

The FY 2027 budget display groups security cooperation programs, related activities, and the respective authorities through which they are executed into nine (9) categories. Categories 1-5 mirror the subchapters in Chapter 16 of Title 10 and Categories 6-9 supports reform to management and oversight activities (Category 6), humanitarian and assistance activities (Category 7), partner security forces funds for counterterrorism activities and combating insurgencies (Category 8), and cooperative threat reduction efforts aimed at preventing the proliferation of weapons of mass destruction (Category 9). The nine-security cooperation and related activities categories of this display are summarized below:

Category 1: Military to Military Engagements - Security cooperation programs and activities related to the interaction between U.S. military personnel and the national security forces of friendly foreign countries, including the exchange of military personnel, and bilateral and regional cooperation programs.

Category 2: Training with Foreign Forces - Activities related to training alongside national security forces of friendly foreign countries, as well as the payment of related training and exercise support. These activities occur principally for U.S. force readiness and interoperability.

Category 3: Support to Operations - Security cooperation programs and activities that provide logistic support, supplies, services, specialized training, loan of equipment, and reimbursements to support the conduct of operations in which the U.S. military may or may not be directly participating.

Department of War (DoW)
Security Cooperation (Base Budget)

Category 4: Capacity Building - Security cooperation programs and activities that build the capacity of a friendly foreign country's security forces through the provision of defense articles and services, including institutional capacity building efforts with international partners.

Category 5: Educational and Training Activities - Security cooperation programs and activities related to the participation of foreign personnel in DoW-sponsored education and training programs, including the Regional Centers for Security Studies.

Category 6: Management, Infrastructure, and Workforce Development - Activities that encompass the administration, management, and oversight of security cooperation programs, to include personnel, information technology, facilities, and costs associated with ensuring a qualified security cooperation workforce, such as the establishment of a certification program.

Category 7: Humanitarian Assistance Activities - Programs and activities associated with humanitarian and/or civic assistance focused on building capacity for friendly foreign countries, humanitarian mine action and foreign disaster relief.

Category 8: Partner Security Forces Funds - Security cooperation programs and activities associated with the professionalization, cultivation, and sustainment of partner security forces in Iraq, Syria, and Lebanon with a focus on preventing the reemergence of ISIS.

Category 9: Cooperative Threat Reduction Activities - Title 50 activities focused on working with partner civilian and military departments to reduce the threat of weapons of mass destruction (WMD) and WMD-related materials to U.S. national interests.

The remaining sections of this display provide a breakdown of the Department's security cooperation and related activities budget request to meet the congressional intent of 10 U.S.C. 381(a). Section II details the budget requests for the programs and activities comprising each of the nine categories. Section III displays the Department's program requests by authority. The programs and authorities are displayed separately as some DoW programs execute activities under multiple authorities, thereby preventing a one-to-one correlation between program and authority.

II - Categories of Security Cooperation Programs and Activities

Category 1: Military to Military Engagements

Military-to-military engagements are a key relationship-building tool for the Department. These programs include exchange of military personnel, payment of incremental expenses and bilateral and regional cooperation programs. Title 10, Chapter 16 provides the Department the authority to conduct nonreciprocal exchanges and authorizes exchanges (e.g. subject matter expert exchanges, or SMEEs) with non-defense security ministries as well as regional and international security organizations.

The FY 2027 request reflects the Department's efforts to realign programs with the 2026 NDS priorities.

MILITARY TO MILITARY ENGAGEMENTS: Military-to-military (M2M) engagements deepen interoperability, develop and employ joint operational concepts, demonstrate capabilities, and prepare our partners to uphold their collective defense responsibilities. Through a variety of periodic or ongoing exchanges and bilateral and regional cooperation programs, these engagements enable partners to develop the capabilities required to play critical roles in the execution of contingency operations that either (1) enable U.S. forces to prevail, or (2) mitigate risks to U.S. forces. Those roles may include specific missions within an operation, contributing forces to coalition operations, or providing access and infrastructure, if necessary, to enable U.S. or coalition operations. In keeping with 2026 NDS priorities, the FY 2027 budget request prioritizes engagements in the U.S. Indo-Pacific and Southern Command areas of responsibility.

These M2M engagements include (but are not limited to): Southern Partnership Station, African Partnership Flight, and African Partnership Station. Southern Partnership Station (SPS) is conducted by U.S. Naval Forces Southern Command (USNAVSO)/U.S. 4th Fleet, forming long-term tactical and operational cooperative relationships with partner maritime forces. The U.S. Air Forces in Europe, Air Forces Africa (USAFE-AFAFRICA) Partnership Flight program includes multilateral military-to-military engagements with African and/or European Air Force partners. Partnership flights provide fora to discuss best practices and lessons learned in the air enterprise to facilitate capability and capacity development. Africa Partnership Station (APS) supports U.S. efforts to improve maritime domain awareness and maintenance capabilities of African partner forces, as well as conducting senior leadership conferences, staff talks, regional information-sharing efforts (such as the Yaoundé and Djibouti Codes of Conduct), the annual Maritime Security Working Group (MSWG), and assessments to inform future capacity-building programs.

STATE PARTNERSHIP PROGRAM (NATIONAL GUARD): DoW's State Partnership Program (SPP) contributes to U.S. national security through conducting military to military engagements and building long-term relationships globally in direct support of the Geographic Combatant Commanders' theater campaign plans and U.S. Chief of Mission integrated country strategies. SPP activities promote mutual understanding, interoperability, and readiness of National Guard forces; support combatant command missions; and build enduring relationships with partner nations. Funding supports the National Guard's ability to engage in security cooperation activities with 116 partner nations. These activities include senior leader engagements, subject matter expert exchanges, and conferences, workshops, and exercise participation. This program supports the additional man-days and operation and maintenance (O&M) funding required to plan, coordinate, and execute these SPP activities.

The FY 2027 request reflects the Department's effort to enhance military readiness and effectiveness of relevant State National Guard participants to further U.S. national security interests abroad.

Category 2: Training with Foreign Forces

Training with foreign forces primarily contribute to readiness for U.S. forces and improve their ability to execute campaign plans and achieve strategic objectives. Simultaneously, this training builds relationships with friendly foreign forces, improves interoperability, and enhances the integration of partners and enables them to more effectively share the burden of participating in current operations alongside or in lieu of U.S. forces.

The FY 2027 request reflects the Department's efforts to realign programs with the 2026 NDS priorities.

Program / Activity	Base (dollars in thousands)
	FY 2026 Enacted	FY 2027 Request
Joint Combined Exchange Trainings	42,216	57,223

TOTAL Training with Foreign Forces	466,702	696,752

JOINT COMBINED EXCHANGE TRAININGS: The Joint Combined Exchange Training (JCET) program is designed to train U.S. Special Operations Forces (SOF) in their mission-essential tasks, particularly foreign internal defense and unconventional warfare. They are short duration overseas deployments to train with military and other security forces of friendly foreign nations. They are intended to build U.S. SOF capability to conduct combined operations in an unfamiliar environment, develop language skills, and gain familiarity with regional and local geography and culture. Incidental benefits to this training program include building and maintaining military-to-military contacts; gaining regional access with minimal footprint; improving interoperability between U.S. SOF and partner nation forces; and enhancing partner nation forces' counterterrorism abilities.

The FY 2027 request reflects the Department's efforts to realign programs with the 2026 NDS priorities.

Base (dollars in thousands)	FY 2026 Enacted	FY 2027 Request

TRAINING WITH FRIENDLY FOREIGN COUNTRIES: Training with friendly foreign country programs consist of exercises designed with the primary purpose of benefitting general purpose U.S. forces, while also building relationships with allies and partners. They are short duration overseas training exercises with the national security forces of friendly foreign nations. They are intended to build U.S. capability, readiness, and support the conventional force unit's ability to achieve mission essential tasks.

Training and exercising alongside U.S. forces, affords allies and partners opportunities to develop and demonstrate a range of specific capabilities, such as counterterrorism operations, disruption of drug trafficking and other illicit trafficking networks, maritime interdiction, countering weapons of mass destruction, and humanitarian assistance/disaster response operations, effectively proof of concept of their capability to provide for their own defense. Training with friendly forces builds relationships that promote specific U.S. security interests, including access, basing, and overflight privileges.

The increased funding for FY 2027 will allow for additional exercise, training, and experimentation in the Indo-Pacific region.

Base (dollars in thousands)	FY 2026 Enacted	FY 2027 Request

Category 3: Support to Operations

Support to operations includes two key roles for partners and allies: supporting U.S. operations and conducting operations in lieu of U.S. forces. Ultimately, much of the security cooperation enterprise aims to develop the capabilities, relationships, and interoperability that enable countries to fill these two roles; thereby increasing partner burden-sharing. Support to operations encompasses overarching types of assistance:

- Non-reimbursable logistic support, supplies, and services (LSSS); specialized training; and loan of equipment to partners to enable support to U.S. operations;
- Non-reimbursable transportation, sustainment, subsistence, and medical assistance for partner forces supporting U.S. operations to counter ISIS;
- Reimbursable support to certain partners for expenses incurred to increase security, and sustain increased security, along their border; and
- Provide LSSS to countries that are engaged in operations that are in the national security interest of the United States, in which the U.S. may not be participating.

The FY 2027 request reflects the Department's efforts to realign programs with the 2026 NDS priorities and increase burden sharing with allies and partners.

Program / Activity	Base (dollars in thousands)
	FY 2026 Enacted	FY 2027 Request

BORDER SECURITY: Section 1226 of the National Defense Authorization Action for FY 2016, as amended, provides support to key allies and partner nations on a reimbursable basis for expenses incurred to increase security and sustain increased security along their borders adjacent to conflict areas. This assistance serves to degrade the free movement of Islamic State of Iraq and Syria (ISIS) and other terrorist organizations, illicit weapons, narcotics as well as other forms of smuggling to promote greater regional security.

While the FY 2026 enacted program addressed emergent operational support requirements of eligible partners in the U.S. Central Command and U.S. Africa Command areas of responsibility, the Department's FY 2027 request reflects realignment of security assistance programs with the President's priorities and goal to increase burden-sharing with allies and partners.

SUPPORT TO CONDUCT OF OPERATIONS: Operations conducted by friendly foreign countries contribute to burden sharing by enhancing U.S. national security objectives and reducing the need to deploy U.S. forces when operations advance U.S. interests. The Secretary of War may provide up to $450 million in FY 2027 of non-reimbursable logistic support, supplies, and services (LSSS) to friendly foreign forces participating in combined operations with the United States or a military that benefits U.S. national security interests.

Support provided under Title 10 United States Code (U.S.C.) §331 (section 331) may include the procurement of equipment, specialized training, and small-scale construction focused on enhancing capabilities and promoting interoperability. Typically, the Department does not request funds for missions conducted under section 331 authority.

Category 4: Capacity Building

Capacity building programs form the core of the Department's security cooperation activities and include the provision of defense articles, services, and institutional capacity building.

Strategically aligned with the President's America First framework, the Department's building partner capacity programs and activities enhance the capacity of allies and partners to provide for their own defense, reducing the burden on the U.S. warfighters to provide regional security. The Department ensures that capacity building programs not only develop key capabilities, but also strengthen partner nations' capacity to absorb, employ, and sustain these capabilities. Capacity building programs are regularly reviewed and vetted by the Secretary of War to ensure a return on U.S. government security sector assistance investments.

The FY 2027 request reflects the Department's efforts to realign programs with the 2026 NDS priorities and increase burden sharing with allies and partners.

EUROPEAN CAPACITY BUILDING (ECB): The ECB supports security cooperation programs and activities that build the military capacity of European partners to address shared national security challenges, enhance interoperability among partner forces, and enable European allies and partners to take on greater responsibility for their own security challenges. These efforts would support U.S. national security and defense strategic objectives.

INTERNATIONAL COUNTER-PROLIFERATION PROGRAM (ICP): The DoW International Counterproliferation Program works with partner countries to cooperatively reduce the threat of Weapons of Mass Destruction (WMD) proliferation. The program improves the capacity of partners to deter, detect and interdict, investigate, and prosecute individuals and organizations that seek to proliferate WMD through the provision of training and the development of doctrine for civilian law enforcement components, counterterrorism units, border security/customs agents, and other ministerial executives and agencies that have a Counter Weapons of Mass Destruction (CWMD) function. Counterproliferation goals and objectives are derived and prioritized based on broader U.S. CWMD strategy, known proliferation threats and vulnerabilities, and capability gaps of international partners.

The FY 2027 request reflects realignment of security cooperation with the President's priorities prioritizing cost efficiency, transparency and the consolidation of services, and Secretary of War's priorities to strengthen readiness, modernize capabilities and sustain the force.

INTERNATIONAL SECURITY COOPERATION PROGRAM (ISCP): The International Security Cooperation Programs (ISCP) account funds security cooperation programs and activities that build the military capacity of partner forces to address U.S. national security challenges. The Department uses the ISCP account to fund a wide range of activities, including programs and activities authorized under 10 U.S.C. section 332 (Institutional Capacity Building), section 333 (Train-and-Equip), section 335 (U.S.-Colombia Action Plan for Regional Security), and P.L. 114-92, section 1263 (Indo-Pacific Maritime Security Initiative).

Security cooperation programs funded through the ISCP account are prioritized across a range of factors, including strategic alignment, program feasibility, and Combatant Commander prioritization. In line with the Secretary's guidance, ISCP activities are focused on deterring PRC aggression, reducing the flow of illicit goods through the southwest border, buying down risk to forward deployed U.S. warfighters, and shifting the burden for regional security by enabling allies and partners to take on greater responsibility for their own security challenges. ISCP's initiative-based planning supports the Department's efforts to conduct assessment, monitoring, and evaluation of security cooperation activities to ensure programs yield a return on U.S. investments.

TAIWAN SECURITY COOPERATION INITIATIVE (TSCI): The Taiwan Security Cooperation Initiative (TSCI) supports the Department's efforts to strengthen Taiwan's self-defense capabilities to enhance deterrence and preserve peace and stability across the Taiwan Strait, and mitigate risk to the U.S. Joint Force. TSCI complements Taiwan's defense investments and other U.S. security assistance and security cooperation authorities, and incorporates security cooperation assessment, design, planning, and monitoring best practices to ensure efficiencies are identified and implemented.

Category 5: Educational and Training Activities

Educational and training activities contribute to improved information flow between partners and U.S. personnel, relationships, and interoperability. Activities include a range of educational and training outreach activities, including the six Regional Centers for Security Studies, the Western Hemisphere Institute for Security Cooperation, Inter-American Air Forces Academy, and the Regional Defense Combating Terrorism and Irregular Warfare Fellowship Program.

The FY 2027 request reflects the Department's efforts to realign programs with the 2026 NDS priorities and increase burden sharing with allies and partners.

INTER-AMERICAN AIR FORCES ACADEMY: The Inter-American Air Forces Academy (IAAFA) develops partner nation capabilities and strengthens international partnerships through joint, combined, and interagency education and training for allies and partners in the Western Hemisphere. The Academy provides professional military education and technical training to military personnel of the Western Hemisphere and other eligible Partner Nations. Courses offered are based on U.S. strategic objectives stemming from the 2026 NDS, Combatant Command Campaign Plans, partner nation requirements, and historical needs.

IRREGULAR WARFARE CENTER: The IWC is a DoW functional center that was authorized in the FY 2023 NDAA. The IWC serves as the central mechanism for advancing DoW understanding of irregular warfare concepts and doctrine, in collaboration with key partners and allies to enhance integrated deterrence against hybrid threats below the threshold of armed conflict. The IWC's global network serves as a force multiplier and coordinator of functional IW progress for the Department. The Center provides research and education on key regions and countries to advance broader U.S. Government objectives. Funding for the IWC: (1) builds and strengthens a domestic and global network of irregular warfare experts and practitioners at the operational and strategic levels; (2) builds and reinforces the irregular warfare capabilities of partner nations; (3) provides the DoW with an agile and innovative approaches that can respond to emerging irregular warfare challenges.

The FY 2027 request reflects the Department's efforts to expand the IWC program of education to support a thirty percent increase in student throughput.

REGIONAL CENTERS FOR SECURITY STUDIES: The DoW Regional Centers (RCs) conduct academic, research, and outreach activities to promote common perspectives on regional security and promote shared responses to transnational threats. Through these programs and resulting alumni networks, RCs expand both the will and capability of partners to fulfill roles and take actions that support mutual security and defense goals, consistent with U.S. objectives. The DoW RCs are an executive-level, Title 10-authorized strategic complement to traditional invitational professional military education (I-PME), extending beyond the Ministry of Defense to influence a broader range of security and defense stakeholders.

Participants in RC programs are generally senior (O-5/GS-14 equivalent and above), multilateral, and inter-ministerial, including security and defense stakeholders from ministries of foreign affairs, justice, law enforcement, and parliamentarians. Section 342 of Title 10 U.S Code authorizes the following DoW Regional Centers: the George C. Marshall European Center for Security Studies (GCMC) (Garmisch-Partenkirchen, Germany); the Daniel K. Inouye Asia-Pacific Center for Security Studies (DKI-APCSS) (Honolulu, Hawaii); the William J. Perry Center for Hemispheric Defense Studies (WJPC) (Washington, D.C.); the Africa Center for Strategic Studies (ACSS) (Washington, D.C.); the Near East-South Asia Center for Strategic Studies (NESA) (Washington, D.C); and the Ted Stevens Center for Arctic Security Studies (TSC) (Anchorage, Alaska). These programs will focus on Defending the U.S. Homeland, Deterring China in the Indo-Pacific through strength, not confrontation, increasing burden-sharing with U.S. allies and partners, and supercharging the U.S. Defense Industrial Base.

The FY 2027 request reflects the Department's efforts to realign programs with the 2026 NDS priorities and increase burden sharing with allies and partners.

REGIONAL DEFENSE COMBATING TERRORISM AND IRREGULAR WARFARE FELLOWSHIP PROGRAM (RDFP): The RDFP, authorized in the FY 2004 NDAA (10 USC 2249c), provides foreign military officers and government security officials with strategic and operational education to enhance partners' capacity to combat terrorism. In the FY 2019 NDAA, Irregular Warfare was added to the authority, and the program was redesignated the Regional Defense Combating Terrorism and Irregular Warfare Fellowship Program (10 USC Ch. 16 sec. 345). The RDFP is a key tool for the combatant commands to foster regional and global cooperation in the war on terrorism. The RDFP enhances the U.S. Government's efforts to provide non-lethal Irregular Warfare and Combatting Terrorism assistance. The program supports mobile and resident institutional courses tailored to the specific needs of key regions and countries to advance broader U.S. Government objectives. All personnel are thoroughly vetted consistent with legal requirements regarding human rights issues. Funding for the RDFP: (1) builds and strengthens a global network of experts and practitioners at the operational and strategic levels; (2) builds and reinforces the irregular warfare and combating terrorism capabilities of partner nations through operational and strategic-level education; (3) contributes to irregular warfare and counterterrorism ideology efforts; (4) provides the DoW with a flexible and proactive program that can respond to emerging irregular warfare and combatting terrorism requirements.

The FY 2027 request reflects the Department's efforts to expand education and training for partner nation defense officials, directly furthering U.S. national security interests. The additional funds will expand engagement with priority countries across all combatant commands, focused on critical areas including irregular warfare, homeland defense, special operations, combating terrorism, and cybersecurity.

Category 6: Management, Infrastructure, and Workforce Development

Pursuant to Title 10, Chapter 16, Section 301 of the U.S. code, these activities support improved oversight, management, and execution of DoW security cooperation activities. The activities encompass three main areas: Professionalizing the security cooperation workforce; instituting Assessment, Monitoring and Evaluation throughout the lifecycle of security cooperation activities; and conducting program management through a single point of accountability. These activities also improve DoW's ability to track and prioritize security cooperation activities and enhance congressional oversight of resources by separately funding these centralized activities.

The FY 2027 request reflects the increase costs associated with International Cooperation Administrative Support Services (ICASS), course design and research, support the Global Assessment, Monitoring, and Evaluation program, and information technology modernization, DFAS financial operations support and financial statement audit remediation and internal controls.

ASSESSMENT, MONITORING, AND EVALUATION (AM&E): Section 383, Chapter 16, Title 10 and directs the Secretary to maintain a program of assessment, monitoring, and evaluation of enterprise DOW security cooperation programs and activities. This requirement is not limited to the security cooperation programs and activities authorized by section 333 and funded through the DSCA ISCP account. The FY 2027 request for AM&E enables the Department to implement and sustain assistance, improve institutional capacity, and build capabilities in the context of country or other relevant objectives, and to identify requirements, gaps, and potential risks. It also supports the identification of best practices and lessons learned, and development of security cooperation policies and plans supporting the security cooperation workforce.

The FY 2027 request reflects increased funding to support the Global Assessment, Monitoring, and Evaluation program, and support costs, including data collection trips and software, that are required to produce legally mandated assessment and monitoring products.

DEFENSE SECURITY COOPERATION SERVICE: The Secretary of War directed the establishment of the DSCS, in accordance with the FY 2024 NDAA (10 U.S.C. § 384), to ensure that the U.S. Military Group (USMILGP) workforce stationed at U.S. embassies is appropriately sized and trained to achieve national and theater security cooperation goals and objectives. Achieving national security objectives requires a dedicated USMILGP workforce with the right training to advise and assist our allies and partners to develop capabilities that address shared security challenges. The DSCS provides the combatant commands with improved security cooperation workforce capabilities and capacity by: (1) enhancing USMILGP training, (2) right sizing USMILGP manpower to align with national security priorities and security cooperation workload at each USMILGP, (3) improving support for partners and allies' access to U.S. security cooperation programs and activities, (4) fully meeting DSCA's statutory and regulatory responsibilities and roles as the Department's lead for all security cooperation program execution and administration consistent with 10 USC § 382, and (5) placing an increased emphasis on supporting Combatant Command efforts in achieving national and theater strategic objectives.

The FY 2027 requests additional funding due to the costs of International Cooperative Administrative Support Services (ICASS) cost-sharing system and the urgent need to bolster accountability of U.S.-origin defense articles, build the institutional capacity of our partners to resist malign influence, and modernize the underlying information technology required to manage a global security cooperation enterprise.

DEFENSE SECURITY COOPERATION UNIVERSITY: Pursuant to Section 384 of Title 10 U.S. Code, DoW established DSCU to improve the quality and professionalism of the security cooperation workforce. A professional military and civilian security cooperation workforce directly supports effectiveness of security cooperation activities necessary to shift burden and strengthen credible coalitions capable of deterring attacks, while simultaneously supporting the U.S. economy and defense industrial base. The FY 2027 request reflects a consolidated DSCU budget activity in accordance with Section 384(h)(2) of Title 10 U.S. Code. The FY 2024 NDAA established DSCU in statute and further defined its mission to include: education, training, development, and management of the workforce; management of Institutional Capacity Building (ICB) services and international military training and education activities executed by the DoW; as well as advancement of the security cooperation profession through research, data collection, analysis, publication, and learning.

The FY 2027 request reflects increased funding to support essential course design and research to address critical professionalization gaps such as technical knowledge, training, and capabilities to integrate security cooperation with strategic competition.

The Overseas Humanitarian Assistance Shared Information System (OHASIS) and Partnership Outreach and Collaboration Support tool (POCS)) are used to assist with the sharing of information across DoW and international communities. Funding for the Global Theater Security Cooperation Management Information System (G-TSCMIS) will support a new system and user interface to facilitate program management and reporting for all Security Cooperation (SC) authorities. This request includes both O&M and Research, Development, Test and Evaluation (RDT&E) funds for these systems.

The FY 2027 request reflects increased funding for key information technology (IT) modernization initiatives, implementation of DoW's Zero Trust efforts, financial statement audit remediation, and for DFAS financial operations support due to higher transaction volumes and financial reporting requirements.

SECURITY COOPERATION STRATEGIC EVALUATIONS: Independent strategic evaluations align with Department priority issues and national security objectives and promote the efficient application of resources by evaluating U.S. return on investment. Strategic evaluations rigorously develop evidence on the efficiency, effectiveness, relevance, and sustainability of security cooperation initiatives and support improvements to security cooperation strategy, policy, programs, and budgets. Through use of strategic evaluations, the Department is better enabled to understand what security cooperation methods work and why, and document contributions to national and department-level strategic objectives.

Strategic Evaluations are one part of the Department's assessment, monitoring, and evaluation program, which follows the requirements outlined in Title 10 U.S.C. Section 383. The Office of the Under Secretary of War for Policy (OUSW(P)) acts as the centralized evaluation office for the security cooperation enterprise. OUSW(P) coordinates with stakeholders to create and prioritize annual strategic evaluation topics, facilitate their conduct, disseminate findings, and apply recommendations to the security cooperation enterprise.

The FY 2027 request reflects increased funding to conduct additional evaluations pursuant to Title 10, Section 383 statutory requirements.

Category 7: Humanitarian Assistance Activities

DoW's humanitarian assistance (HA) activities promote the National Defense Strategy (NDS) and directly support Combatant Command (CCMD) theater campaign plans. These activities enable international burden-sharing by strengthening partner capacity to assume greater responsibility and enhance stability in strategically important regions. DoW's HA activities build partner nation capacity and capabilities to provide essential services to civilians and to reduce the risk of, prepare for, and respond to natural and man-made disasters, thus enabling burden-sharing and reducing the need for U.S. assistance. In addition, these activities enable access and visibility in strategic regions, strengthen alliances and partnerships, and ensure DoW's freedom of maneuver.

The FY 2027 request reflects the Department's efforts to align programs with 2026 NDS priorities and increase burden sharing with allies and partners.

OVERSEAS HUMANITARIAN, DISASTER, AND CIVIC AID:

The Overseas Humanitarian, Disaster, and Civic Aid (OHDACA) appropriation supports the Secretary of War and the Combatant Commanders efforts to employ humanitarian programs as strategic tools that directly support the National Defense Strategy and theater strategies to build partner nation resilience, capacity and capability; expand and strengthen alliances; advance DoW access, and operational readiness; counter malign actors; and promote burden-sharing. OHDACA-funded programs include Humanitarian Assistance (HA) and Humanitarian Mine Action (HMA), and DoW support to U.S. Government Foreign Disaster Relief (FDR) efforts. Together, these programs build civilian and defense capabilities and reinforce DoW and U.S. national security objectives by addressing critical vulnerabilities before they become military challenges.

OHDACA activities build partner nation capacity and capabilities to respond to humanitarian crises both domestically and in their respective regions. Enabling burden sharing with allies and partners reduces the need for the U.S. to respond to crises abroad, allowing the Joint Force to stay focused on core warfighting priorities—particularly deterring China, defending the homeland, and preparing for high-end conflict.

By strengthening our partners' capacity and capabilities to mitigate, prepare for, and respond to disasters, OHDACA funded activities reduce the reliance on, and the ultimate costs to, American taxpayers for disaster response, while improving DoW's access and ability to operate in strategically important locations.

The FY 2027 request reflects the Department's efforts to realign programs with the 2026 NDS priorities and increase burden sharing with allies and partners.

Category 8: Partner Security Forces Funds

Partner security force funding supports the goal of building partner capacity to combat insurgencies and terrorist activities within Iraq and Syria, as well as helping ensure the lasting defeat of ISIS. Programs range from basic training and equipping to modernizing and improving the capabilities of U.S. partners. Through a focus on building partner capacity, the Department minimizes over-reliance on U.S. forces to carry out the DoW mission abroad and works toward enabling partners to better manage such threats.

The FY 2027 request reflects the Department's efforts to realign programs with the 2026 NDS priorities and increase burden sharing with allies and partners.

COUNTER-ISLAMIC STATE OF IRAQ AND SYRIA TRAIN AND EQUIP FUND: The Counter-ISIS Train and Equip Fund (CTEF) provides DoW a flexible and responsive operational funding source to support ongoing efforts to advise, assist, and enable vetted partner forces in Iraq, Syria, Jordan, and Lebanon. CTEF provides the Iraqi Security Forces, vetted Syrian groups and individuals, the Jordanian Armed Forces, and the Lebanese Armed Forces with training, equipment, logistics support, supplies, and services, stipends, and other approved forms of assistance for their Defeat-ISIS operations. With the support received from CTEF, partner forces continue to perform critical missions to secure areas previously held by ISIS, detain ISIS fighters, and conduct operations to disrupt ISIS cells and networks.

Category 9: Cooperative Threat Reduction

The DoW derives authority to carry out the Cooperative Threat Reduction Program (CTR) through the Cooperative Threat Reduction Act (Public Law 113-291), and has used this authority to reduce chemical, biological, and nuclear threats to the U.S. and its interests worldwide.

The CTR program enables the Department of War (DoW) to work cooperatively with foreign partners to reduce or eliminate the threat of the proliferation of weapons of mass destruction (WMD) or WMD-related materials. To accomplish this, the CTR Program includes several lines of effort: the Biological Threat Reduction Program, the Proliferation Prevention Program, Global Nuclear Security, Chemical Security Program, Transportation, Elimination, and Disposition. These efforts facilitate the elimination and safe and secure transportation of WMD, weapon components, weapon-related material, and associated delivery vehicles. They also prevent the proliferation of WMD and WMD-related materials and technology.

The FY 2027 request reflects the Department's efforts to realign programs with the 2026 NDS priorities and increase burden sharing with allies and partners.

COOPERATIVE THREAT REDUCTION: The DoW Cooperative Threat Reduction (CTR) Program is the Department's foremost and most comprehensive tool for preventing the proliferation of weapons of mass destruction (WMD) and WMD-related materials, technology, and expertise. Under Title 50 Chapter 48, the DoW CTR Program has authority to work with both civilian and military departments to further its mission of reducing the threat of WMD and WMD-related materials to U.S. national interests. Originally established to eliminate and secure vulnerable nuclear materials in the former Soviet Union, the DoW CTR program has evolved to address the spectrum of WMD threats that the U.S. and its allies face globally.

III - Fiscal Breakdown by Authority

Security Cooperation Programs and Activities by Authority

Section 381(a) requires, to the extent practicable, the budget to be identified by authority. In some cases this is easy, where individual authorities map directly to individual programs or budget line items. In other cases, a program may use multiple authorities and DoW may use an authority for more than one program. The breakdown here should be considered notional based on plans and may change in execution. To align all funding with authorities, those programs that span multiple authorities have either been included in lines listing multiple authorities (e.g. 10 U.S.C. 311 and 312), or the program was included under the authority expected to authorize the preponderance of the funding.

V - Fiscal Breakdown by Geographic Location

Security Cooperation Programs and Activities by Combatant Command's Area of Responsibility

Section 381(a) requires, to the extent practicable, the budget to be identified by region. Where funding is denoted as "Applicable to more than one" geographic region, this includes programs that may involve countries from multiple CCMD AORs, as well as programs whose planning timelines do not enable the geographical area to be determined at this time.

The Department's goal is to include by country budgetary information in the future; however, this is not currently feasible due to the data collection timeline and the available systems for analyzing and processing the security cooperation data.
